

The British Sundial Society

Advancing the education of the public in the science and art of gnomonics since 1989

Have you ever seen sundials like these?
Have you wondered what their history is?
How do they work? How were they made?
Are sundials still made today?
Have you looked at a sundial and wondered why it never seems to tell the 'right' time?
Have you ever thought about joining The British Sundial Society?
